

Collection Development for Academic Libraries: Eleventh Seminar

The Studio, Manchester, Wednesday 20th November 2019

Disruption and Innovation are the New Normal

#NAGcd11

slides: <http://glsr.it/nagcd11>

10.00-10.30	Registration & refreshments		@UkLibrariesNAG
10.30-10.40	Welcome/Introduction to NAG
10.40-11.10	Paper 1: Reading List Service overhaul at The University of Manchester Library; Are we nearly there yet...?	Olivia Walsby University of Manchester	@uomlib_olivia
11.10-11.40	Paper 2: Behind the scenes of an implementation: Fear the change but create the workflow anyways	Natalia Gordon Leeds Beckett University	@BeckettLibrary
11.40-12:00	Tea/Coffee Break
12.00-12.30	Paper 3: Is it for teaching, for research, or both?: collaboration on ebooks in Cambridge.	Rebecca Gower and Jayne Kelly Cambridge University	@evaluna71
12.30-13.00	Paper 4: How Libraries are improving their understanding of student and staff needs, and managing expectations	A.J. Mackenzie Leeds Beckett University	@AJMackenz
13.00-14.00	Lunch & networking
14.00-14.05	Welcome back
14.05-15.05	Panel: Framework alternatives to Amazon	Andrew Knight Carli Thatcher	@CarliThatcher
15.05-15:35	Paper 5: What happens when a publisher tries to publish a new format	Chris Harrison Cambridge University Press	@CambridgeUP
15.35-15.50	Tea/Coffee Break
15.50-16.20	Paper 6: 'This is Manchester, we do things differently here': the story of a collaborative model to support reading for pleasure.	Sheila Candeland Manchester Metropolitan University	@SheilaCandeland
16.20-16.30	Close	NAG Committee Member

NAG Seminar organisers:

Jane Cooke, Associate Director, Collections, Content and Discovery, University of Liverpool
j.cooke@liverpool.ac.uk

Eric Jackson, Collections and Acquisitions Manager, Leeds Beckett University
E.Jackson@leedsbeckett.ac.uk

Anthony Sinnott, Access & Procurement Manager, University of York
anthony.sinnott@york.ac.uk

Jackie Stringer, Sales Specialist Books, ProQuest
Jacqueline.stringer@proquest.com